What is Podcast CPD?

Podcast CPD is a new and innovative approach to professional development that aims to offer leaders and aspiring leaders with a thirst for developing themselves new strategies and approaches to leadership. This new learning will be delivered predominantly through a series of podcasts meaning that you can enhance your own professional development at a time and place that works for you, this could be when you are walking the dog, driving to work, during work if you have the time or even doing the washing up at home. The beauty is that you can fit the podcasts around your lifestyle and work commitments. The second part of Podcast CPD is that at four points during the 11 week programme you have the opportunity to network, meet great people and interact with guest speakers (and we have some great ones) through the medium of a 45 minute Zoom. To find out more see below.

How Podcast CPD works

Why has it been developed?

Podcast CPD was created because education needs great people who constantly want to improve. The 11 week programme was created with the simple aim of connecting and inspiring existing leaders and aspiring leaders at a national (and possibly international level) through innovative CPD. This programme is completely free and put together by a collaborative group of leaders who believe in connecting and sharing ideas - it is done in our own time and no money is charged or made from the programme. In all honesty it actually costs us to run the programme but we think this is a small price to pay for meeting new people, trialing new learning and trying to make a difference.

How To Sign Up

To register and sign up for Podcast CPD 2 Leadership, you need to complete the Google Form HERE by no later than 7th January 2022. Please note that in signing up we ask that you endeavour to attend the Zoom meetings as this is where great networking and learning occurs.

What leadership skills will be developed?

All of the podcasts that we share will touch on at least one of the four leadership skills highlighted above. We know that to be a highly effective leader you need a range of skills but we've decided to narrow it down to these four. After all, leaders who have have thirst for self improvement, are able to reflect at a deep level, self regulate under the most stressful situations and never lose site of their vision are, in our opinion, going to be some of the best people out there. Don't worry if you are stronger in some of these areas than others, that's natural and also the point of this 11 week programme.

Vision - This is a central area that all of the best leaders in the world have along with an ability to adapt and reimagine a vision according to changing times.

Reflection - This ties in with emotional intelligence. The ability to reflect and get the balance right between key learning and yet not overtly and systematically criticising ourselves is vital at times of change.

Self improvement - You're on this programme so we know you value self improvement. The aim of developing this skill is to help you to reflect specifically on what will make the most difference to you as a leader.

Self regulation - We think this is one of the hardest skills to master when under extreme pressure and so we have included it as an essential skill.

Your Role in Making a Difference

Podcast CPD is part of a research project which is investigating the role of digital CPD in enhancing and inspiring leaders - in order to make the biggest difference possible we will be issuing three short surveys (one at the start, one in the middle and one at the end of the programme) and will be asking you to take the time to complete them. Each survey will take a maximum of 5 minutes. In merely signing up you are making a difference because you are committing to sharing your views with other leaders but if you want to go further we ask that you share this programme with any colleagues/friends who you feel might be interested - the more the merrier!
